

Delivering Music (particularly notation) with confidence

Wednesday 18th May 2022

13:15—15:30

Meanwood Primary School

Trainer: Helena Drumm (Meanwood Primary School)

Audience: Early Years & Primary

Aimed at all primary teachers and co-ordinators (non-specialists in particular), the aim is to help give teachers the confidence to deliver music, particularly the tricky curriculum requirement to teach notation.

It will be a hands-on practical session where methods and resources will be shared and participants will be given ideas to adapt activities to their own setting - whatever the size or resources of their particular school - whilst taking into account the challenges of delivering music within a very tightly squeezed curriculum.
